TWO GOOD REMEDIES

WORKING TOGETHER, PRODUCE MARVELOUS RESULTS. For instance, Hood's Sarsaparilla, the standard blood purifier, is recommended for conditions that are scrofulous or dependent on impure blood.

Peptonin Pills, the new iron tonic, are especially recommended for conditions that are radically or characteristically anemic and nervous.

Many persons suffer from a combination of these conditions. They are afflicted with swelling of the glands, blemishes in the neck, cutaneous eruptions, and more on different parts of the body, limbs and face, and are besides pale and nervous.

If these patients take both Hood's Sarsaparilla (before meals) and Peptonin Pills (after meals), they can reasonably be sure to derive fourfold benefit.

These two great medicines supplement each other, and the use of both, even in cases where only one may appear to be indicated, is of great advantage. Get them from your druggist.

Sentence Sermons By El Paso Ministers

DO YOU want to know how heavy a burden sin is? Go to Gethsemane; there your sins bow down to the ground the Creator of all things. Does it concern you whether God is angry at sin and will punish it? Ascend Mount Calvary; there the Father delivered His own Son into the hands of death for the punishment of sin. Would you find out what it cost the Son of God to make atonement for sin? Picture His sufferings to your mind, as the Lord Himself describes them in the 40th psalm.—Rev. A. Weebeking, of Zion's German Evangelical Lutheran church.

The person who has been in the kingdom of God for any length of time and has not had the luxury of leading a soul to Christ is to be pitied.—Rev. I. N. Langston, of Highland Park Baptist church.

Many of those who criticize the ministry of today for not preaching the "gospel" are those who prefer that the minister should speak of things in the far distant past and pass over present day sins.—Rev. W. C. Baber, of the Altura Presbyterian church.

Andrew and Philip did not attend a class on "Personal Work" before they began to introduce their Lord to others. They had found in Jesus a very satisfying friend, not as a formal, rule-regulating thing, but naturally and spontaneously they went and told their friends about Him.—Rev. Chas. L. Overstreet, of the First Presbyterian church.

Access to the saving power of Jesus is not limited by any outward condition of time or place. The lame man at the pool must be placed in the water at a certain time, he must have someone place him there, else he could not receive benefit from its curative powers. The fountain opened in the house of David for sin and all uncleanness is accessible at any time and anywhere under God's blue sky—Jerusalem, Judea, Samaria, Galilee, El Paso, the uttermost part of the earth. Faith in Christ appropriates the benefit of this healing fountain. "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ and thou shalt be saved."—Rev. J. F. Williams, D. D., of the First Baptist church.

The church in its relation to the religious training of the young is but the widening family circle.—Rev. Perry J. Rice, of the First Christian church.

The modern mind that says miracles do not happen has bungled its job until it satisfactorily explains the miraculous transformation of character by the gospel of the Son of God.—Rev. C. K. Campbell, of Asbury Methodist church.

I care not what man's state may be in this life, he is never fully satisfied. God did not intend he should be. "When I awake in the likeness I shall be satisfied." David.—Rev. J. W. Dunn, of the Church of Christ.

It has been said that religion is to some only a banner under which they sail. It should not only be a banner under which to sail, but a rudder to guide the ship of life.—Rev. O. J. Wade, of Calvary-Houston Square Baptist church.

The Christ-man is the man who is willing and ready to give himself for the principle he finds in righteousness.—Rev. Asner A. Davis, of the East El Paso Presbyterian church.

Faith in Christ begins the Christian's life, and the same trust and confidence in Him gives the Christian power to master his body and to daily work in His steps, and to finish His work. Your unhappiness and weakness does not prove that Christ is not able, but that you do not use Him.—Rev. Watson M. Fairley, of Westminster Presbyterian church.

You may belong to the different lodges and circles, and social orders, and churches, but unless you belong to God through the cleansing power of the blood of Jesus Christ, you will be eternally lost.—Rev. Ed. L. Millican, of the East El Paso Baptist church.

However deep our creedal convictions may be, they should never make bigots of us. Jesus said, "They shall come from the east, and from the west, and from the north, and from the south, and shall sit down in the kingdom of God," to the wonder of many who have limited the grace of God, and have put undue efficacy "in rites, confessions, names, or claims above the intents of the heart."—Rev. Frank C. Collins, of the East El Paso Methodist church.

When a man declares, "I cannot believe in miracles," I reply, "I can, because I have witnessed them." "When and where?" "On a certain street in this city is a man who was a few weeks ago given over to every form of vice and brutality, and who is now a good citizen, an honest workman, a kind husband, a loving father, a pure, upright man! Surely that is such a miracle as makes me forever believe in the possibility of miracles."—Rev. H. P. Bond, of Highland Park Methodist church.

SCRIPTURE.

Luke 12:22-31.

And he said unto his disciples, Therefore I say unto you, Take no thought for your life, what ye shall eat; neither for the body, what ye shall put on.

The life is more than meat, and the body is more than raiment.

Consider the ravens: for they neither sow nor reap; which neither have storehouse nor barn, and God feedeth them: how much more are ye better than the fowls?

And which of you with taking thought can add to his stature one cubit?

If ye then be not able to do that thing, which is least, why take ye thought for the rest?

Consider the lilies how they grow: they toil not, they spin not; and yet I say unto you, that Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these.

If then God so clothe the grass, which is to day in the field, and to morrow is cast into the oven; how much more will he clothe you, O ye of little faith?

And seek not ye what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink, neither be ye of doubtful mind.

For all these things do the nations of the world seek after: and your Father knoweth that ye have need of these things.

But rather seek ye the kingdom of God: and all these things shall be added unto you.
